

I am Just Learning How to do Life.

Right Back at You Grand-Pa

By Rick R.

When my grandson was in preschool, and after many hours with him, talking about everything from stars and space to bugs and animals, and trying to give him the best perspective I could about how to respond to life issues at a level that he could understand. He came home from school one day and told me that one of the boys in his class was being bad and had gotten into trouble. I tried to explain to him that the boy was not bad, he was just misbehaving and that he was too young to be bad (5yrs. old). I explained to him that maybe that boy did not have someone who could teach him how to behave properly. He continued the conversation and asked (“grandpa, if someone said I was a bad boy”) I stopped him in midsentence and asked, “Who said that you were a bad boy”? He replied, “no one, but if they did” I stopped him again and said, if anyone says that you’re a bad boy, you can just say, “I’m not a bad boy, I’m just a kid learning how to do life.”

At a meeting shortly thereafter, the topic was on resentment, and, for lack of a better analogy, I told the story of my grandson and how I look at everyone in the same way. Most people act out, to compensate for deeper rooted emotional problems. None of us are perfect. We all have shortcomings and for me to condemn someone else, who may be plagued by these things and has not resolved them yet, would be like piling on, and I always feel worse when I resort back to those old behaviors. I should never let my emotions, or my ego draw me into conflict with other troubled people. I must always try to take the high road in these situations. But what about when other people cross my boundaries in a negative way, do I have to be a doormat? No, I do not have to participate in it with them, if there is a way to remove myself from the situation, but I should not be judgmental either. I must refrain from pointing out that other person’s faults. To me, they are like my grandson’s little classmate. They are all like, (KIDS LEARNING HOW TO DO LIFE), and for me to engage in criticism in that situation would be like two old men in a care facility hitting each other with their canes because one was not walking fast enough for the other. It sounds funny, but we do it every day. I am no better or worse than the next man. I may be further along the path than him, but no better. I pray for understanding and compassion in these situations. I must never Judge a man on his surface behavior, I must have the strength to look deeper. We are all just like those KIDS LEARNING HOW TO DO LIFE.

A few months after that discussion with my grandson we were running a little late taking him to his Taekwondo class and he was in his child seat behind us in the car and I was bickering with my wife about getting there on time when he interrupted us saying “Guys, I can hear you.” I responded by saying, “you should have been ready yourself” when he responded, “Grandpa, I am not a bad boy, I am just a kid learning how to do life.” My wife and I broke out in laughter. God, I love that Kid.

Tradition Nine: (The Long Form)

“Each A.A. group needs the least possible organization. Rotating leadership is the best. The small group may elect a secretary, the large group its rotating committee, and the groups of a large metropolitan area their central or intergroup committee, which often employs a full-time secretary. The trustees of the General Service Board are, in effect, our A.A. General Service Committee. They are the custodians of our A.A. Tradition and the receivers of voluntary A.A. contributions by which we maintain our A.A. General Service Office at New York. They are authorized by the groups to handle our overall public relations and they guarantee the integrity of our principal newspaper, the A.A. Grapevine . All such representatives are to be guided in the spirit of service, for true leaders in A.A. are but trusted and experienced servants of the whole. They derive no real authority from their titles; they do not govern. Universal respect is the key to their usefulness.”

Tradition Nine:

AA as such, ought never be organized; but we may create service boards or committees directly responsible to those they serve.

1. Do I still try to boss things in AA?
2. Do I resist formal aspects of AA because I fear them as authoritative?
3. Am I mature enough to understand and use all elements of the AA program — even if no one makes me do so — with a sense of personal responsibility?
4. Do I exercise patience and humility in any AA job I take?
5. Am I aware of all those to whom I am responsible in any AA job?
6. Why doesn't every AA group need a constitution and bylaws?
7. Have I learned to step out of an AA job gracefully — and profit thereby — when the time comes?
8. What has rotation to do with anonymity? With humility?

NINTH TRADITION

A.A., as such, ought never be organized, but we may create service boards or committees directly responsible to those they serve.

“William Duncan Silkworth ... supplied us with the tools with which to puncture the toughest alcoholic ego, those shattering phrases by which he described our illness: the obsession of the mind that compels us to drink and the allergy of the body that condemns us to go mad or die. Without these indispensable passwords, AA could never have worked.”

Concept Nine:

“Good service leaders, together with sound and appropriate methods of choosing them, are at all levels indispensable for our future functioning and safety. The primary world service leadership once exercised by the founders of A.A. must necessarily be assumed by the Trustees of the General Service Board of Alcoholics Anonymous.

Greetings,

I'm writing to inform the fellowship of the upcoming Central Office Steering Committee elections to be held on November 2, 2021. The elections will be held at the Central Office during the COI meeting. This letter contains a brief description of the duties of each position, the term of office, and information related to the voting procedure according to the Central Office Bylaws.

Item 1: Steering Committee*Steering Committee

The Steering Committee shall be established to oversee AACO administrative matters and provide direction to the office manager. The Steering Committee shall be responsible to the AACO. The members of the Steering Committee shall be the four officers of AACO, the office manager, and chairpersons of Conventions, Public Information, Treatment and Corrections and the Intergroup social meetings. These members should fulfill their individual responsibilities in accordance with the scope of their duties as hereinafter described. With the exception of the paid office manager, Steering Committee members shall serve without compensation. The members of the Steering Committee shall not represent any single group. However, in the case of conflict of interests, non-participation in the discussion and abstention from voting shall be observed by this Steering Committee member.

Qualification and Eligibility

A member of the Steering Committee shall be sober for an uninterrupted period of at least three years before and during Steering Committee Service and be a resident of the area served. There shall be no waivers of these requirements under any circumstances.

Election Process

Annual elections to fill completed Steering Committee positions shall be held during the November meeting of the Intergroup. Newly elected Steering Committee members shall take office effective the following 1st January.

The chairpersons of conventions, public information, treatment and corrections and Intergroup social meetings shall be elected by the Intergroup.

Each Steering Committee position to be filled under the rotation process, as called for in Section III. B.4 of these bylaws, shall be filled by separate election. All persons attending the meeting shall be asked to stand. Those not having the required length of sobriety shall be asked to be seated. Of those standing, those who are not willing to run for any position or who do not possess the necessary level of knowledge and experience shall be asked to be seated. Those who remain standing shall be identified and announced by the chairperson as candidates for the vacant positions. For any specific vacant position, the candidate receiving the greatest number of votes cast for that position shall be elected. In case of a tie, the voting shall continue until one of the candidates receives a simple majority.

All members of the Intergroup, namely, the representatives and Steering Committee members present, shall be entitled to cast one vote on each round of voting. Where necessary, "The Third Legacy Procedure", as described in Chapter one of the A.A. Service Manual pp. 522-523 may be used.

Note: All electors (either COI, Alternate COI, or current Steering Committee member) are required to have attended the two Steering Committee, or the two COI Meetings immediately preceding the election (September, and October meetings).

Positions and Terms of Office:

Vice-chair: Two-year term

Treasurer: Two-year term

Secretary: Two-year term

Tristate: One-year term

Intergroup: One-year term

PI/CPC: One-year term

Treatment and Corrections: One -year term

The duties, and responsibilities are detailed below. For more information, please feel free to contact Lisa M., Central Office Manager, Maurice W., Jr., Steering Committee Chairman, or Kim S., Steering Committee Vice-chair.

Chairperson

The Chairperson shall plan and preside at all Steering Committee and Intergroup meetings and shall keep informed of AACO operations and general A.A. matters by regularly meeting and conversing with the office manager. In the event the chairperson is unable to attend a meeting, the vice chairperson shall preside.

Vice Chairperson

The vice chairperson shall work directly with the chairperson to keep informed of AACO operations and general A.A. matters, chair all meetings from which the chairperson is absent and coordinate any AACO special fundraising. In the absence of a standing Public Information Chairperson, the Vice Chairperson shall coordinate public information and professional community activities. In the event the chairperson resigns the vice chairperson shall become the chairperson for the remainder of the term.

Secretary

The secretary shall record the minutes of the Steering Committee meetings and present them at the following Steering Committee meeting for approval, shall maintain attendance records of Steering Committee meetings, and shall record or cause to be recorded the minutes of Intergroup meetings and submit them for approval at the following regular meeting of the Intergroup. In the absence of the secretary, the chairperson shall delegate a person to record the minutes of such meeting.

Treasurer

The treasurer shall review all financial records and reports of AACO, oversee the preparation and timely filing of all governmental required returns and reports, and regularly report directly to the Steering Committee and Intergroup and, through a monthly newsletter or other means, to the A.A. fellowship the financial operations and condition of AACO. The treasurer should have a working knowledge of accounting through the profit and loss statement and strong computer skills.

Office Manager

The office manager shall administer AACO in order to accomplish its purpose as set out in Section II. B of these bylaws and be responsible and accountable to the Intergroup through the Steering Committee for the achievement of that purpose. Upon vacancy of the office manager position, the chairperson shall temporarily fill the position to the extent feasible until an office manager replacement is selected by the Intergroup and subsequently appointed by the Steering Committee.

Chairperson of Conventions

The chairperson of conventions shall form a convention committee and also assist the Steering Committee chairperson in the performance of their responsibilities; coordinate and report all convention progress and details to the Steering Committee and Intergroup; set up necessary sub-committees to organize and stage an annual Tri-State convention to be held in the fall (suggested sub-committees to include program, convention facilities, transportation, and any other the Intergroup requests); and make financial arrangements. The convention chairperson and/or Steering Committee chairperson shall be authorized along with the Treasurer to handle any disbursements of money related to the convention with two signatures required on all checks.

A separate checking account shall be maintained and reported to the Steering Committee. A reserve (amount to be determined) shall be maintained in the convention account. Any excess shall be transferred to the account of AACO. This procedure will help to maintain a base fund for future conventions. The Tri-State convention is to be funded at least in part by registration fees (the amount to be determined by the convention committee). An annual report to the Steering Committee will be prepared by the chairperson of conventions following the settlement of all debts of the convention. Any A.A. member including any Intergroup members may serve on the convention committee.

Chairperson of Public Information

The purpose of public information is to carry the A.A. message to the general public through the media (newspaper, magazines, radio, television, etc.); also, to alcoholics through those who are in a position to help them (e.g. wife, husband, doctor, etc.). Members of public information committees frequently visit schools and talk to students about A.A. This chairperson is to assist the Intergroup chairperson in the performance of their responsibilities, coordinate speakers for non-A.A. meetings, assist the media with inquiries, periodically update A.A. meeting schedules for the media, and follow general A.A. guidelines.

Chairperson of Intergroup Social Meetings

The duties of the chairperson of Intergroup social meetings is to assist the Steering Committee chairperson in the performance of their responsibilities; assist host groups(s) with each monthly social meeting conducted on the first Saturday night (8pm) of each month at the designated address; maintain a listing of participating groups to host or co-host the Intergroup social meetings, notify each host or co-host a minimum of thirty (30) days in advance, and notify all groups as to the host group, speaker (if possible), date, time, and type of function, and notify AACO for inclusion in the newsletter; assist with the coordination of collections and payments related to the Intergroup social meetings. With approval of AACO they may hold special meetings such as a New Year's Eve dance. This chairperson shall encourage all non-participating groups to participate in hosting or co-hosting Intergroup social meetings.

Thank you for being willing to serve our AA community. I can assure you that the experience will be very rewarding.

Forever grateful,

Greetings,

It is my hope that everyone who receives this letter is doing well and staying safe. This is an invitation to the old-timers (members with 25 or more years of continuous sobriety) to share memories of those who helped shepherd their sobriety. We all have memories of individuals God placed in our lives who through their sharing, enabled us to overcome that moment's dilemmas, or whose words of wisdom encouraged us to trudge the path with a higher level of commitment.

We do not want to lose those memories! Hence, we have five donated voice recorders at the Central Office that can be borrowed and, used to document your sobriety journey while highlighting the influence of those who are no longer with us but, who played a pivotal role in your recovery. These memories will be transcribed and put in booklet form to be shared with the fellowship. Our hope is that members will borrow one of the recorders for about one month, record their memories, and then return the recorder to the Central Office where it will be available for the next participant.

Continuity with, and knowledge of the past, is a hallmark of all strong organizations. Help us to remain strong for future sufferers by remembering our past. Please call the Central Office to reserve one of the recorders.

Forever grateful,
Maurice W., Jr., Chairman
Central Office Steering Committee

Step Nine: The Promise Of Intuition

We Will Know Peace

By Rick R.

We will intuitively know how to handle situations which used to baffle us. (B.B. pg. 84) How many times in your life have you been faced with a decision, and you did not know what to do about it, then a day and a half later, you awakened in the middle of the night, sat up in bed, and said to your-self, A-Hah, and went right back to sleep? Somehow the answer came to you without having to go through days of research.

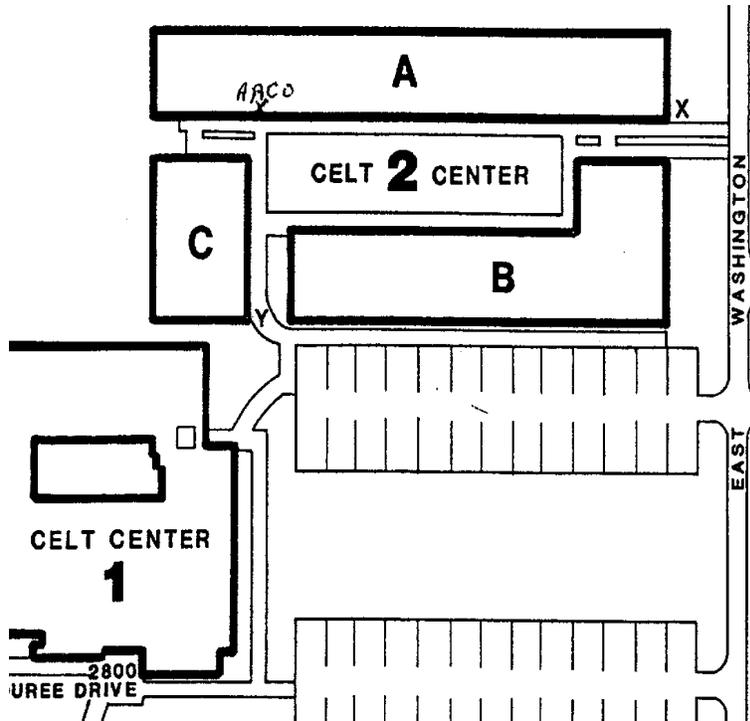

In the early days of 1970, I was going through a course on human behavior and the instructor was trying to describe how the brain functions. He explained that the human brain has approximately ten billion cells and we only use about one billion of them. He then explained that these cells store everything we experience in our lifetime. The more current events are easier to remember than the things that are off in the distant past, but they are all in there somewhere. He then likened it to a file system where, if you ask a question, the more current answers come immediately, but for those more distant memories, the brain starts searching the files and it may take a while eventually the answer will come.

With all the mental chaos that we bring with us when we enter the Alcoholics Anonymous (A.A.) program, we have lot of, what I refer to as, unlearning to do. We go through the process of trying to rid ourselves of alcoholic thinking and to replace it with sound principles and values. If we are fortunate enough to buy in completely, and do a thorough job of house-cleaning, so to speak, we can start using the ideas that we hear of, and others used successfully, and we get a surprisingly good result. We may hear as many as twenty or thirty people share at any given meeting. Can we remember everything we hear? To me, the answer is yes. I could come up with a dozen boilerplate A.A. cliches about how the answers come to me but it does not get any simpler than the mental file cabinet theory. Sometimes it seems to me that I am learning when I am not even listening, and it is like getting it through osmosis. If you have ever heard of the police trying to get a witness to remember a license plate number by hypnotizing that person, you understand what I mean. It is in the sub-conscious and there is a curtain-like screen between the conscious and subconscious mind. This is what keeps us from going mad due to the busyness of it all.

I never underestimate the capacity of my mind when it comes to problem solving. Attending A.A. meetings on a regular basis and interacting with the people who have had similar experiences and have found similar solutions to their problems gives me a very encouraging outlook for the future. Many of the answers that I am seeking are right in front of my face and some are deeper in the file cabinet. Most of the time, when faced with the dilemma that is causing me any kind of distress, I can refer to my simple request of my higher power. God, please show me to do and please give me the strength to do it. I do not do well on my own. It is surprising how often I awake in the middle of the night, say A-HAH, and go back to sleep again. It seems that intuitively the answers come.
